Prepares Important Amendments to Measure Now Pending in Congress.

GREATLY MODIFIES THE BILL

First Step Toward Compromise With Opponents, Who Hold It Up.

General Grosvenor, chairman of the House oCmmittee on Merchant Marine subsidy advocates, today took the first ep to compromise with the opposition which has hitherto been successful in colding up the Senate measure in the ommittee that he had prepared impor-ant amendments to the Senate subsidy bill. It makes clear that the subsidie are to be applied only to lines from the South Atlantic coast to the South Amer ican republics, and from the Pacific

The subsidy for the South African lin is eliminated; also the one for the short line of the Northern Pacific to the

May Modify Bill.

Modification of the pending bill is the blan now proposed to make it possible of get legislation. The pending bill contion proposed to subside the committee are opposed to subside legislation proposed to subside an now proposed to make it ries to practically all parts of the ords. The modification proposed is to minate from the bill everything experiment and to against it now. They held a conference on the subject recently and described to subject the conference on the subject recently and described to the subject recently and th on the Pacific. There is particular cided to oppose all forms of subsidy tion by many members of Con-legislation. This insures eight out of but less opposition o aiding lines the bills.
